This policy has been written to reflect the guidance given in the UK Quality Code for Higher Education, published by the QAA, with particular reference to Part B, Chapter B4: Enabling student development and achievement.

8 Roles and Responsibilities

8.1 The College

The College is responsible for ensuring there are clear procedures and opportunities available to enable HE students to be informed about and engage with additional learning support as needed. The College is obliged to do this as stated within its HEI partnership agreements. The College, as a higher education provider, works to the UK Quality Code published by the QAA as a key a reference point for the quality management and enhancement of its higher education provision which is reviewed periodically by the QAA.

8.2 Students

Higher Education students are responsible for being pro-active and timely in responding to the requests from ALS and applying for the Disabled Students Allowance (DSA) and the Technical Needs Assessment (TNA) with ALS support and guidance and providing the ALS team with the resulting reports.

Under normal conditions at least 4 weeks' notice is required when requesting exam concessions to be put in place.

8.3 Principalship

The Principalship holds overall responsibility at the College to ensure there are systems and structures in place that are fit for purpose for additional learning support.

8.4 Additional Learning Support Team

Additional learning support will support the learner in accessing the DSA, a diagnostic assessment and the TNA.

On receipt of the DSA2 the coordinators will contact the student, within one working day, to inform them of receipt of the DSA2 and to agree the arrangements for support or initial meeting if it is a new student. To be recorded on pro monitor.

ALS will store all supplied diagnostic reports, DSA2s and TNAs as evidence for exam concessions and support and enter any exam concessions onto ProMonitor/ProSolution.

For those students who request their support to be supplied by Bridgwater and Taunton College, and have a DSA and TNA:

- The Additional Learning Support Team are responsible for supplying the correct support as defined by the TNA, that it is reviewed and tracked correctly, to inform Course Leaders /Tutors of the support via ProMonitor and to invoice SFE. ALS will inform the Tutors of any changes of support arrangements via ProMonitor

- All sessions will be agreed and booked in advance with the allocated support worker and student.

For those students who wish to access support elsewhere:

- Additional learning support will advise the Lecturing teams on strategies and techniques to support learners in the classroom
- Additional learning support will ensure all records are kept up to date in line with the DSA Quality Assurance Group (DSA-QAG)
- Additional learning support will ensure all support staff are qualified as defined by the DSA-QAG.

8.5 Heads of Department

Heads of Department are responsible for the programmes of study and students within their Area, or for the services that support them and therefore are responsible for ensuring that students have opportunities to access additional learning support and that their teams are informed of the processes governing this.

8.6 Curriculum Managers

Curriculum Managers provide a curriculum based lead for each Section of the College's activity based on subject disciplines. With regard to HE additional learning support the Curriculum Managers are responsible for ensuring all reasonable adjustments are implemented.

8.7 Course Leaders/Tutors

Course Leaders (who are normally also Tutors) manage individual programmes of study. They may have different areas of responsibility based on partnership arrangements with universities but these responsibilities will be broadly similar. Key areas of responsibility will include oversight of all students enrolled on their higher education programme(s) and therefore the knowledge of each of their individual learning plans, progress towards achievement, any additional support that is in place and the exam concessions that have been agreed. Course Leaders should be knowledgeable of additional learning support systems and services and be able to at least sign-post students to services at the College.

Tutors are responsible for:

- Including feedback from ALS to inform student reviews/PDP
- Passing onto ALS any copies of reports received directly from students
- Ensuring that students work with their exam concessions as a normal way of working.

8.8 Support Services Managers

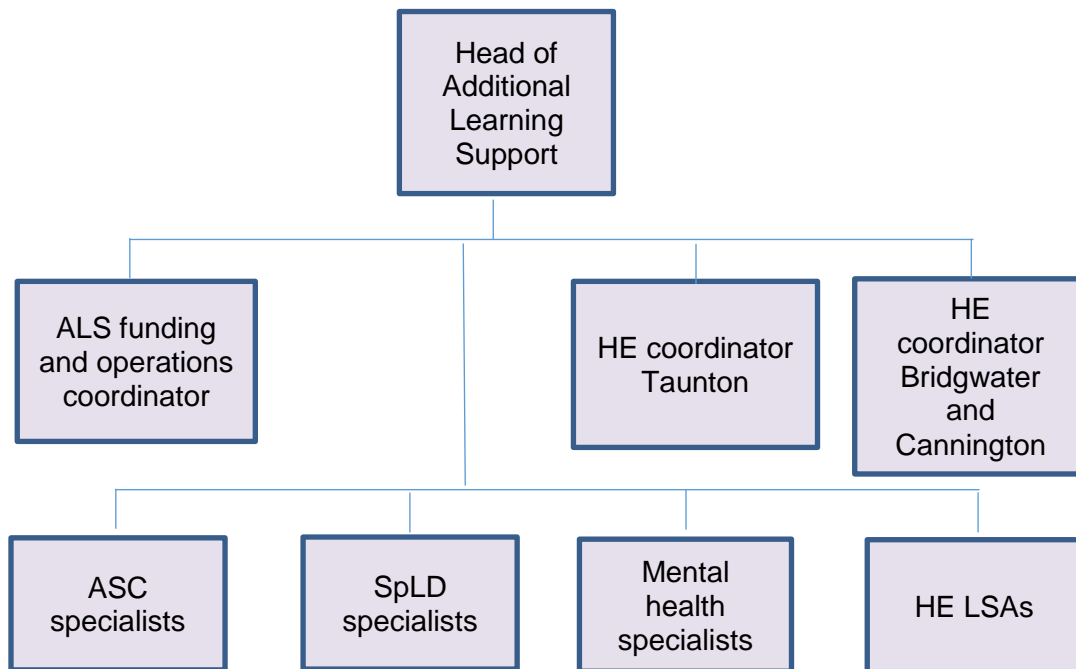

Support service managers with roles in varying services across the College are responsible for having awareness of topics, activities and issues that affect HE students and to understand the wider context in which they reside. This may include being able to effectively signpost students to the correct team that can help with their additional learning needs.

8.9 Exams Office

The Exams office is responsible for ensuring all exam concessions are in place and appropriately staffed as defined on ProSolution.

9 Additional Learning Support Structure

9.1 Overview

9.2 Purpose of Additional Learning Support

The College is committed to developing inclusive learning approaches and to providing additional learning support to secure learning success for all.

9.3 The Process of Providing Additional Learning Support

The College will ensure all learners with additional support needs have equal access to the curriculum and are able to work towards meeting their full potential. This will be achieved by supporting the students through the DSA, diagnostic assessment and TNA application process and providing the specified support, if requested, that is defined in the TNA or diagnostic report.

9.3.1 Exam Concessions

The College will implement exam concessions as defined in the TNA or diagnostic report that is supplied by the student and the evidence will be held by the ALS team and recorded on ProMonitor/ProSolution.

9.4 Communication of Opportunities for Additional Learning Support

9.4.1 Pre-Enrolment

All students receive a link to the DSA website and a contact e-mail for learning support at the College in their offer letter.

Any student who is either already being supported by the College, or who declares an ALS support need on their application form, is contacted by the College and assisted in the DSA application process.

9.4.2 Induction

During the induction process all students are informed of the DSA process and who to contact for assistance by a member of the SpLD team.

9.4.3 On-Programme

Students can either be referred by their Tutors or self-refer to ALS to be screened for possible SpLD. The SpLD team will then assist in the DSA application process.

9.5 Feedback about the Additional Learning Support Services and Processes

The HE student survey includes questions on learning support. Questionnaires are placed in the HE support rooms which can be completed anonymously.

Feedback from the students is recorded at every support session and informs the next support session. In addition an end of year survey is undertaken which as well as the online HE student survey and the anonymous feedback questionnaires will inform planning for the subsequent year.

9.6 Annual Monitoring, Review and Self-Evaluation

At the end of each academic year there is a period of review and self-evaluation that takes place. These are formal documented processes through which programmes and the college management of HE is reflected upon, improvements identified and good practice noted for sharing during the next academic year. The self-evaluation informs the future strategic direction of the college and actions required at an operational level to achieve it.

10 Additional Learning Support Services

SpLD specialists keep up to date by regular PATOSS meetings, annual JCQ update training, weekly agenda item on SpLD meetings and by keeping their approved practising certificate (PATOSS) and AMBDA (Associate member of the British Dyslexia Association) up to date.

ASC specialists attend regular regional forums to discuss emerging issues. The ASC facilitator takes the lead in the regional transitions of ASC into FE, HE and gaining employment.

The Head of ALS is kept informed of changes to the DSA via links with partner Universities and regional Colleges.
